REAL AMERICAN
"SQUEEZER" PLAYING CARDS,

Best quality, of the strongest material, and being highly finished on both sides, they slip readily when handled.

An important feature is that by reference to the "INDICATORS" in the corners all chance of making a mistake in the hand is avoided, as such "Indicators" show the Suit and Size. This allows of the hand being compressed into a very small space, and hence the name "SQUEEZERS." The "Indicators" are in addition to the ordinary pipes made to run both ways.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, 29TH APRIL 1879.

THE commercial advices from London of yesterday's date show few changes of any importance, and business here to-day has accordingly been extremely quiet.

Consols in London remain at 98⅛, French Rentes at 115½, and Enfaced Rupee Paper at 74 for Fours and 79 for Fours-and-a-half.

In the General Produce Markets Coffee and Cocoanut Oil are still unaltered, but in Seeds we note a decline of 6d. per quarter in Rapeseed and an advance of 6d. per quarter in Calcutta Linseed ex-Warehouse.

In the Manchester Piece Goods Market Reuter reports a good enquiry, but business is checked by the firmness of holders. Cotton in Liverpool close dull, Surats steady, the day's sales being estimated at 8,000 bales against 34,000 bales imports. Spot quotations are unchanged with the exception of a decline of 1 16d. in Americans, but in Surats, to arrive, a partial decline of 1 32d. per lb. was quoted in private messages. From New York ready Mid. Uplands is still given at 11¼ cents., but July shipment has advanced from 12·03 to 12·06 cents per lb. The receipts at the U. S. ports to date are as follows :—

	This week	Last week	1878	1877
Two days' Receipts	4,000	10,000	7,500	4,400
Three ,, ,,	7,000	14,000	13,000	6,500
Total since 1st Sept.	4,286,000	...	4,063,000	3,810,500

EXCHANGE.—Bar Silver in London is still quoted by Reuter at 50d per oz., but following the downward tendency apparent in the Market yesterday, rates opened this morning at a decline of 1-16d. per Rupee with every appearance of a further fall. Advice from Calcutta, however, coming somewhat firmer than was expected, a slightly steadier feeling became apparent during the afternoon, and in Bank Bills a partial recovery of 1-32d. took place. Bills here are still very scarce, and there is nothing apparent so far at least as this Market is concerned likely to exercise a special influence on rates, but the mere absence of outside influences seems to lead to a small temporary fluctuation in the present sensitive state of affairs, and it is impossible to form a reliable idea of what the Market is likely to be from one day to another. We quote :—

Bank Bills, on demand	...Is. 7 9-32d.	per Re.
Do. 6 months' sight	...Is. 7 9-32d.	,,
Credits, 3 ,, ,,	...Is. 7 17-32d.	,,
Documents, 3 ,, ,,	...Is. 7 19-32d.	,,
France 3 ,, ,,	...2·05.	,,

In Gold we have not heard of anything being done, but following the dulness in Exchange the quotation has advanced to Rs. 19-10-6 per tola. On Calcutta rates remain unaltered at ¼ per cent. premium for demand, 1¼ per cent. discount for 60 days' sight.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—A very dull feeling has been apparent to-day, and although sellers have been willing to accept a further reduction of ¼ to ½ per cent., buyers decline to operate. We now quote :—Fours, Rs. 92 ; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 97½ to ¾.

THE SHARE remains very dull without signs of probable improvement. In Bank shares the only movement to notice is a decline of ½ per cent. in Bank of Bombay which now stand at Rs. 658½. Land companies are unaltered with the exception only of a decline of Rs. 5 in Colaba, and in Press shares we have only to notice a decline of Rs. 5 in Mofussil and an advance of a like extent in Berars. Spinning and Weaving shares continue quite out of favour with investors, but the speculative movements of the day have resulted in Dhurrumsey, Great Eastern, and Oriental, and Rs. 10 in Manockjee Petit. Bombay-Burmah Trading Co.'s shares have declined to Rs. 1,710.

COTTON has been extremely quiet to-day owing to the tenor of the Home advices, and a very small business has been done. Prices may be quoted Re. 1 per candy lower all round, but even at that buyers seem more inclined to look on than operate for the time being. The receipts from up-country yesterday were 5,466 bales, making a total of 25,778 bales for the five days. Closing prices are :—

Good Ginned Broach, ready	...Rs.	239	per candy.
Do, Omra,	,, ... ,,	229	,,
F. G. F. do	,, ... ,,	215	,,
G. F. do	,, ... ,,	212	,,
Good Dhollera	,, ... ,,	222	,,

LINSEED continues in demand at Rs. 7 per cwt., but there is rather less enquiry for Rapeseed, and the quotation has receded to Rs. 7-3 per cwt.

FREIGHTS are very dull, although there has been perhaps rather more business done to-day than yesterday. For Liverpool by Steam the quotation is 22s. 6d. to 23s. 9d., the s.s. Lady Lycett having been fixed for a part cargo at the former rate. By Sail for Liverpool 18s. 9d. is quoted, but probably less could be done. For the Mediterranean ports 22s. 6d. payable here is the current figure, and even at that the amount of cargo offering is less than the available tonnage.

PIECE Goods continue remarkably quiet, and the clearances from the Bazaar have fallen to an average of about 300 packages per day. Prices, however, are still well supported, and comparatively good rates are still obtainable for medium makes of 8½ lb. 39 inch Grey Shirtings.

COALS are very firm, the ready stock having fallen to a very low ebb. Sales are reported of two steamer cargoes of Davison's West Hartley to arrive at Rs 22-8 to Rs. 22-10 per ton alongside to arrive, but Cape shipments are not in so much request.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1879.

OUR local contemporary was somewhat rash yesterday in announcing the final conclusion of the negotiations for peace. These are still proceeding, and there is some hope that they will be brought to a successful issue—that is, looking at the matter from a Government point of view. We believe that the telegrams which have during the past few days appeared in our columns, read by the light of the recent declarations of the Home Government in the House of Commons, convey a full idea of the position as it stands at present. Yakub Khan, it is said, is now himself desirous of coming to terms, but he is surrounded by a strong war party, that endeavours to keep him embroiled with the British Government. It was only yesterday that we published a telegram advising an attack upon Daka that resulted in severe fighting, the end of which we have still to learn. This does not look like peace having finally been concluded. At all events, we repeat that negotiations are still proceeding, but nothing has as yet been settled as to when Major Cavagnari will start for Kabul, if he ever does so, except as accompanying the army.

THAT the present financial outlook for India is grave, and that the prospects of the future are far from satisfactory few, we think, will venture to deny. But at the same time we fail to see what good can result from tirades against the Government such as that which our Madras correspondent informs us has been despatched by the Chamber of Commerce there to the Home Parliament. The memorial, so far as we are able to judge from a telegraphic summary, resembles somewhat those long and unreasoning productions that Bengal Baboos and Poona Brahmans are so fond of launching against all things in general and English government in India in particular. A list of evils has been brought up, the existence of which no one wishes to deny, and these are aggravatingly laid to the door of an administration that would only be too glad to see a way to a removal of the difficulties which face them. Deliberative bodies like the Madras Chamber of Commerce would do much better by setting themselves to consider how a remedy may be provided for the present unsatisfactory state of affairs. Let them decide upon what reforms are most required, and then by all means let them agitate for the prosecution of such by means of memorials, resolutions, and all the rest of it. But wild and extravagant affirmations that "any Bank or public Company which ignored "common pledges given to shareholders in the "same way that Government have broken faith "with the taxpayers would forfeit all claim to "public confidence" can do no good—such language is much more likely to occasion harm. War, famine, agricultural plagues, and bad times generally, together with the wholesale depreciation of silver, have not yet been brought on our heads by the existing Government of India, and to these causes alone—especially to the latter—must we at present attribute the present unsatisfactory position of the finances of the country. We may not consider that the Licence Tax is the best method whereby a famine fund should be provided, but that is no reason why we should attribute to our rulers the inevitable results of that famine, or of the other evils which have afflicted the country, coming as they did together, and during successive years in a manner unprecedented in the annals of British—although not in that of native—rule. That India is threatened with great financial troubles we do not deny, and that Government must sooner or later take measures, either to reduce its expenditure or to increase its revenue is incontestable, but we shall not assist in that work by giving vent to useless and baseless criminations such as that in which the Madras Chamber of Commerce have most unwisely indulged. The complaint advanced by them is, that Government have applied to the ordinary expenses of the Empire taxes which were first ostensibly raised for famine purposes alone. But it is that fact—that such had become necessary—that Sir John Strachey has already laid chief stress on when producing his Budget. He pointed out that this lamentable result had been necessarily brought about mainly, by the millions of money which had been swept away by the fall in exchange, and said that the insurance provided against famine had accordingly virtually ceased to exist, while the difficulties in the way of "fiscal, com- "mercial, and administrative reforms have been "greatly aggravated." What manner of advantage, therefore, can result from reiterating the statement, and from casting on the Government's financial policy responsibilities with which it has had nothing to do. We repeat, that if the members of the Chamber had consulted altogether and brought into play whatever commercial experience it has been possible for them to acquire in so insignificant a place as Madras, and if they had arrived at some conclusion as to what new fiscal measures the circumstances of the case require, it is possible, although extremely unlikely, that their deliberations might have been of some little value.

There can be no question that the very serious depreciation of the Indian currency and of the silver which is held in immense quantities—a depreciation that so far as at present can be seen may go on in the future to an indefinite extent —is the consideration that outweighs all others in the gravity of its consequences, both to the Government and to the country. The revenue generally is not in an unsatisfactory condition, and would even show a yearly increasing surplus, were it not for the ever-recurring and increasing loss by exchange. There would have been a surplus last year even in spite of continued famine and notwithstanding the extra expenses of the war, had the increased Home Charges not swept away everything. Famine and bad times generally will not, however, always continue, while a succession of good years similar to the succession of bad ones which we are now experiencing would work a rapid and wonderful change. If the people of India are unable to meet famine by themselves without assistance, they at least are capable of rapidly recovering from the effects of these visitations, and with the return of seasonable weather, quickly resume their normal occupation of developing the really rich resources of the country. We can, therefore, reasonably hope that before long much of the existing pressure upon the finances, resulting from that cause as well as from war, will disappear, but unfortunately we can entertain no such hopes as to the evils that follow from a debased currency. So far as we can at present see, these are bound to go on increasing, and it is to that question which we would more particularly draw the attention not only of the Madras but of all the other commercial Chambers in the country. Government, we hope and believe have the matter under their close and serious consideration, but it is a question to which the deliberations of commercial men in India might in addition with advantage be directed.

Of course, it is not to be denied that there is room for economy as regards the present expenditure of the country, and that reforms in that direction are urgently called for. The Native Army, for instance, is needlessly expensive and the European armed forces are at present supplied to India upon an unnecessarily extravagant system. A return to the principles of a local army would without doubt afford much relief to the exchequer, as it would then become possible to maintain in India an equal number of European troops to that even now deemed necessary, but at a greatly reduced cost. Then, again, looking at the Empire at large those wasteful, useless, and dangerous encumberances—the armed forces of Native States, are certainly doomed to extinction. Such scandalous abuses as they embody must sooner or later come to an end. And when that most necessary reform shall have been effected—as we say it assuredly will notwithstanding the maudlin and inconsistent arguments of Baboo associations and their supporters—the Native States of India will contribute their proper share of the expenses of Imperial defence and ease the Imperial Exchequer of its present unequal and unfair burden. The justice of this latter argument will be seen when we point to the expenses of the war in Afghanistan, which was undertaken to secure the whole country against future trouble and frontier disturbances, but the cost of which is now most unjustly borne alone by the provinces under British rule. We think, therefore, that in the carrying through of reforms like those we mention, there is much hope in the future of seeing Indian finance attaining to even a better position than it has ever occupied in the past. We do not believe that India can ever become bankrupt if only its resources are carefully nursed, and we must not be discouraged because the times at present are unusually bad. Rather let us take advantage of the pressure and difficulties the latter carry with them to press home the reforms that are needed.

IN another column will be found the copy of a curious petition to the British Government that had been forwarded by the Turis of the Kurram Valley some eighteen years ago. The document was found a short time since in one of the old records of the Kohat district office and is interesting from the fact that these people—who inhabit the country from Thull up to the Peiwar range—have from first to last thoroughly cast in their lot with us. They have carried our dâks during the past six months, and have, we understand, never lost a bag. They also were the first to gain the Kotal itself on the day of the Peiwar fight, and have supplied the most trustworthy guides that the army has yet succeeded in obtaining. It is to be hoped that the peace now in course of settlement will provide for the future of these people, and that they will not be abandoned—as is too often the case with England's small

A MEETING of the creditors of Messrs. Finlay, Scott and Co. was held yesterday at their office, Elphinstone Circle. Owing either to insufficient notice or the usual apathy and indifference of natives, not a single native creditor was present. The only gentlemen who attended were the Hon'ble Mackintosh Balfour for the Bank of Bombay, Mr. Moultrie, of the Bank of Bengal, with his solicitor, Mr. Prescot, and Mr. Sharpe, of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China. Mr. Craigie, of Messrs. Craigie, Lynch, and Owen, was also present on behalf of Messrs. Finlay, Scott and Co. A statement of the firm's liabilities was placed before the meeting, but after a deal of talk the creditors separated without coming to any resolution. A private liquidation was proposed; but the proposal, we hear, was strongly opposed by one of the creditors, who insisted that the firm should go through the Insolvent Debtors' Court in the usual way.

AFTER dragging its weary length over seven days, the examination of the case of Jee Nath by Mr. Macpherson Aon behalf of the Official Assignee of Bombay terminated yesterday. The ostensible object of the enquiry was to discover materials for fastening a claim upon Kessowjee on behalf of the creditors of the insolvent firm of Nursey Kessowjee and Co.; and the ingenuity of counsel must have been considerably exercised—while taking Kessowjee through large transactions extending over a number of years—to entrap him into making admissions which might form the basis of a future suit or suits against him. How far the desired object has been arrived at, it would be a difficult task to spell out of the interminable mass of evidence which has been recorded during seven sittings. Doubtless it will be a future labour of love to the professional gentlemen engaged in the enquiry. Meantime, Kessowjee's counsel will re-examine him to-morrow in the hope of trimming the balance of evidence where it may be necessary to do so.

YESTERDAY Mr. Justice Bayley delivered judgement in what is known as the great Trade Mark Case. The result is that Messrs. Wallace and Co., the plaintiffs, gain nothing and have to pay the costs, which, considering the prolonged hearing, cannot be very trifling.

WE learn from Simla that the Maharaja of Vizianagram, K. C. S. I., died yesterday.

MAJOR GENERAL SIR HENRY DALY, K. C. B., is expected to visit Simla soon to stay a short time.

THE mother of the late Abdulla Jan, and widow of the late Amir Shere Ali, has returned to Kabul from Mazari Shereef.

WE announced the other day that a Prince aged twelve years, son of the late King of Burma, by the daughter of the Shan Chief Theinnee, had just been killed in resentment of his grandfather's contumacy in refusing the recognition of Theebaw's suzerainty. The refusal, we now learn, was due to the slaughter of the Mekharah Prince with his wife, children, and sisters. His wife was the daughter of the Theinnee Chief.

REGARDING war correspondence by officers, it is explained that the Commander-in-Chief has given no sanction incompatible with the Queen's regulations. Obviously, however, these are not held to prohibit ordinary correspondence, or the special orders relating to staff officers would have been meaningless.

A NEW type of cattle disease has broken out at Coonoor. The animal when attacked foams at the mouth and bleeds from the nose.

CHOLERA is increasing with great rapidity in the Punjab. Several deaths have been reported at Delhi, Umritsur, Jullunder, and other towns, amongst the native population; and on the 22nd instant at Rawul Pindi there were some few cases reported among a detachment of European troops recently arrived there.

THE following is a fuller account of the tragedy at Assensole than we published yesterday:—A sad occurrence took place early on Tuesday, the 22nd instant, at the station of Assensole, which has created not a little sensation. Mrs. Sargent, the wife of a driver on the E.I. Railway, had clandestinely formed an improper intimacy with another employé named William Bernard. This latter having lost his employment on the railway, came down to Calcutta and obtained a situation in an office in Calcutta. A few days ago he received a letter from Mrs. Sargent, conveying to him her desire to leave her husband for him, and that this could be accomplished so soon as he procured Rs. 200 and came up with them. Mr. Bernard accordingly obtained the money and went to Assensole. Mr. Sargent was at this time in Howrah. On Mr. Bernard's arrival he was surprised to see a rival in the house. Excited by a spirit of jealousy he left the house without speaking a word, procured a revolver and returned to the house. He attempted to enter the bed-room but was prevented by the ayah, who stood at the door. Becoming excited, he fired off a barrel of his revolver intending to shoot Mrs. Sargent, but the ayah unfortunately came in his way, and was shot dead through the heart. Her mistress' child, which was in the nurse's arm at the time, had a most providential escape. The culprit was at once secured and made over to the police. Before leaving the house he had a conversation with the man who was in the bed-room at the time when he arrived, in the course of which he told him that he had no intention of injuring him, but to take the life of the woman who had fooled him. The accused now awaits his trial.

THE writer of the Englishman's "Week" says:—Native society, and, for the matter of that, all Europeans who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, have sustained a severe loss in the death of Raja Degumber Mitter. He was about as unlike the general class of Bengalis as it is possible to imagine. Upright and stern in all business matters, never afraid to express his opinions before either Europeans or his own countrymen, and provided with plenty of good sense and arguments to maintain those opinions, at times the Bengalis hated whilst they respected him; and no native gentleman of Calcutta has ever been held in higher esteem by Europeans. For though he disdained to cringe or flatter, and had a very direct way of expressing his opinion, every European felt that he was dealing with one of nature's gentlemen, in whom was no guile. Of his public and private charities it is not for me to speak, but it is no inconsiderable call on any one's pocket to maintain, as the late Raja did, eighty poor students of the University and schools in Calcutta. The British Indian Association will miss him more than any one else, for he was the backbone of all the business of the Association.

WE have always held, says the Lahore paper, "that a great mistake was made in abolishing the local European army of India. However expedient that step may have seemed from many points of view, it was a most unfortunate blunder, in view of a sudden demand for a large increase to our forces. However we may shirk the inevitable consequence of taking up a large portion of Afghanistan to secure our strategical position on the border, we cannot long ignore the necessity of enlarged armaments for its maintenance. It may be, we dare say it is, most inconvenient to face this question now, but it is one which should be faced nevertheless. There must be a redistribution soon of the forces for the occupation of the Punjab and the annexed districts of Kabul, and then it will be clear and patent to all that the numbers for the purpose are insufficient. We should boldly admit the fact now and prepare for it at once. Native troops will be required as well as European, and more officers will be wanted to organize the new levies. Here again time is of the first importance. The Staff Corps certainly will not help us in finding young English officers for service with the native armies, and if timely arrangements are not made to meet the demand which must come, the consequences can hardly fail to make themselves felt in general inefficiency. We do not believe in an easy or speedy solution of the Zulu question, though we have gained a victory as a set-off against disaster. We do not believe in an unopposed rectification of the Afghan frontier. Nor do we believe in the easy conquest of Burma. We hold our present force too small for its task in any of these directions, and we should like to see a prospect of getting reinforcements when they may be needed."

THE Pioneer—The raid made by the Mohmunds over the Kabul river at Kam Daka was far more serious than at first reported, and the "successful retirement" of our troops mentioned by the Press Commissioner has been about as unsatisfactory as such masterly strategic movements generally are. It was well known at Daka Fort and Lundi Kotal that the Mohmunds had collected in force on the northern banks of the river, about eight miles from Lalpura, which town they threatened to sack. The Khan of that place asked for help as he was a friendly chief, and some levies were sent over from Daka without delay. Early in the week it was reported that the Mohmunds had crossed the river, and were threatening Kam Daka, a village on the Kabul within easy marching distance. Captain Creagh, who was in charge of Daka Fort, moved out at once with two companies of his Mhairwarra Battalion, and was heartily welcomed by the villagers, who were presently attacked by 1,200 men. A sharp skirmish ensued, and it was found necessary to despatch a small body of troops from Lundi Kotal to the assistance of Captain Creagh, whose men were hemmed in. So serious did the position of affairs seem, as more Mohmunds were crossing the river, that the troops withdrew having already had 25 casualties out of 150 men. On the 23rd instant a properly equipped force was sent out from Daka to attack the Mohmunds again, but the latter had recrossed the river before the troops reached Kam Daka. The loss on the side of the tribesmen is said to have been 75 killed and wounded, but their partial success in causing the withdrawal of the British troops in the first instance will seem to them to have been very cheaply gained. It is absurd to send out small bodies of men to punish a tribe which can easily get together 2,000 or 3,000 jezailchis, and if the Mohmunds are to be held in check they must be treated in a far different spirit. The tribe has been treated with exceptional clemency all through the campaign, chiefly perhaps to keep them in good temper; and the only return they have made is to block the Abkhana and other northern routes and to attack survey parties. It is significant that the Khyal which tried to cut off Mr. Scott, and only succeeded in killing several of his escort, have not yet been punished. A little more impunity and perhaps the whole Mohmund tribe may assemble, in which case Daka and the neighbouring posts would be very undesirable residences.

THE Madras Times—The Ceylon Church Missionaries have not yet managed to get rid of their Bishop or his attentions. All of them have been cited to appear in Colombo this month, when Dr. Copleston will deliver his charge, and begin his visitation. We understand that the missionaries will attend, but that they will not take the communion from his lordship's hands. The missionaries are preparing a reply to the last letter of the bishop's, more with the view, we fancy, of justifying themselves before the public than convincing or influencing their opponent.

A VISITOR at Lucknow, says the local paper, "saw the Judicial Commissioner's Court a few days ago in full sitting, and working a few notes the visitor asked us if we could tell him the reason why our worthy Judicial Commissioner carried a stout stick with him on to the bench. We were unable to answer him, but we believe that there are suitors who are not awed by a display of gown and bands and such like legal paraphernalia, and that a stout stick is not by any means an indispensable aid in the administration of justice in these provinces. We know that at least one other high official in Lucknow carries a similar weapon of defence with him to the bench."

THE Ootacamund paper says:—"We have much pleasure in chronicling the great liberality of Captain S. Bates, of the Nilgiri Volunteers, in presenting the Band Fund with the handsome donation of Rs. 200 in appreciation of the satisfactory manner in which the musicians acquitted themselves at the ball. Captain Bates has also officially informed the Adjutant that he will have much pleasure in presenting a cup of the value of Rs. 800, to be shot for by the corps, on such terms as the Commandant and officers may arrange, and also that he intends presenting a cup of less value to be shot for by the Coonoor companies. It is very gratifying to us to record Captain Bates' munificence."

THE Madras correspondent of the Pioneer has the following remarks on amateur fine art societies in India:—"I happened to meet a friend a day or two ago, who is not only a thorough artist, but a man who is deeply interested in the development of amateur talent in India. I was glad to find that he quite agreed with me in the matter of a clearer definition of the terms of competitions, and a distinct line being drawn between oils and water-colours. He went on to say that he thought a special prize should be awarded for six examples of the process of picture painting, which he classed as follows:—First, the original pencil outline of some view that has appeared promising. Secondly, the arrangement of that outline, preserving the view, but presenting it in artistic form. Thirdly, light and shade study of the above, which might embrace two or more renderings with morning, evening, and mid-day effects. Fourthly, the same in colours. Fifthly, the picture worked up. And lastly, finished with figures dotted in, final touches, glazes, and so forth. Amateurs, he said, wanted an inducement of this kind to think out a picture; the common fault he observed at non-professional exhibitions were sketchiness, and an absence of artistic arrangement and study. This reminded me of a remark which was once made by a clever painter to a very painstaking lady artist in my presence. A picture of the lady's was placed upon the easel for criticism: after a minute or two the learned critic said: 'Very nice, Mrs. M.; indeed, exceedingly nice, but what induced you to paint those three trees in three consecutive perpendicular lines?' 'Why?' she replied, 'Because they grew so, of course. I took the sketch from Nature accurately I can assure you.' 'O! nonsense,' said the professional, 'you must never do such a thing again; never, my dear Madam, commit an ugly thing to canvas. When you arranged your study after your sketch, you ought to have broken up those dead lines, and changed the trunks of the trees to more pleasing forms.' Amateurs are rarely educated up to this degree of boldness; and if a prize were given for artistic composition, we should soon have less sketching and more painting amongst the pictures sent in for exhibition at the Fine Art Society's Gallery."

THE Statesman—The good people of Beyrout have lately been imposed upon by a clever adventurer who gives himself the name of Muhammad Beg Effendi, son of Mukhtar Pasha of Egypt. Such chevaliers of fortune are by no means uncommon in the East. India has her fair share of them. It is about a year since the Indian public were warned against a man calling himself Shams-ul-Umra, and pretending to be a high political emissary from the Sultan to the faithful of Hindustan. Another specimen, of less recent date, was a Bokhariot prince, who came to Allahabad with official recommendations of the highest authority from Constantinople and Bombay, and eventually, after some days spent in the poor-house, had to get a free passage, third-class, to Lahore. A still more notable charlatan was detected at Mecrut some ten years ago, after he had plundered all the chief Mahomedan gentlemen of the North West. To return, however, to our man of Beyrout, who showed great judgment in the selection of a father, we find him putting up at the best locanda (hotel) in the town, and spending money like a prince. The holy men of the environs, who had a grateful memory of Mukhtar Pasha, gave him the sanction of their countenance; and credit was extensively forthcoming in the bazaars, on the strength of imaginary remittances expected from the Effendi's mother in Egypt and his brother in Aleppo. That the Effendi had correspondents of some sort in Egypt was soon proved by the fact that he got advice of a consignment of Calcutta indigo, worth about £500, from Cairo to a Persian merchant in Beyrout, and was even able to possess himself of the custom house invoice and take over delivery of the goods. These were disposed of for half their value, and the Effendi's style of living became more sumptuous than ever until having, like the immortal Mr. Brown, "cleaned out the town" of Beyrout, he got on board a levantine steamer, and transferred himself somewhere else. The next mail brought the merchant a duplicate invoice for the indigo, but the custom-house had no indigo to give him. The principal in the business had escaped; and it was not lawful to proceed against his accomplices without depositing a sum in court as damages in the event of being non-suited. Such is the law that prevails as regards Persians who seek legal redress against natives of the country. The merchant prudently put up with his loss, and revenged himself by warning the public. Our second story is one of some interest to the European community of Beyrout, whether as a romance or a scandal. There is an orphanage attached to the Christian church, which fulfils also the functions of a foundling hospital. What follows reads like a tale from the Arabian Nights. A poor porter's wife was blessed with twins. Being unprepared for such a visitation of Providence, she agreed with her husband to keep one of the infants, and to lay the other at the door of the church. But when she went there, she found somebody had placed a child on the threshold before her. While she was making up her mind what to do, the door opened, and out came the beadle, who, instead of taking either of the children in, gave them both to the woman, and sent her away with some good advice. The poor woman returned home and arranged her three babies on the floor in much perplexity. The new-comer's swaddling clothes looked promising, so they were unrolled, and found to consist partly of a Cashmere shawl, containing a few sovereigns and a note in the language of the Franks. This was deciphered, and appeared to be a reference to a certain bank. On going to the bank, the porter was presented with ten pounds, and told to call once a month and draw five pounds, so long as the child was alive and well. After all, human nature is much the same all over the world, and the East, as well as the West, has its little social romances and misadventures.

THE Globe—The reply given by Colonel Stanley to Mr. R. Duff will serve to remove whatever misconception may exist about State pensions for the widows of soldiers killed in action. The State is not under any covenant of the sort, and there would seem to be no intention of undertaking the obligation, for Colonel Stanley stated that he was not able to propose any regulation on the subject. Were a widows' pension fund to be instituted it would involve more or less inflation of the Army Estimates on the very occasions—namely, during wars—when they are exceptionally high. This is certainly a very strong argument against altering the present system in the suggested direction, and yet it may not be denied that there is something repugnant to the national sentiment in casting those bereaved women adrift after their bread-winners have lost their lives in the service of the country. The consequence of this very natural feeling is, that whenever it is said to have occurred, as at Isandula, subscription lists are at once started to provide for the widows and children, so far as the money will allow. The worst of this rough-and-ready way of satisfying the requirements of the national conscience without adding to the national burdens is, that it omits to take cognisance of minor disasters. Thus, there must have been some husbands and fathers among the soldiers we have lost in Afghanistan since the invasion began. Possibly the fifty troopers who have just perished so miserably in the icy waters of the Kabul River included a few who left wife and children dependent upon them for a living. Nor can it be doubted that those men died in the service of their country quite as much as if they had lost their lives in action. Yet neither in their case nor in that of other married soldiers previously killed in Afghanistan has any movement been set on foot for administering to the necessities of the bereaved. Then, too, it remains an open question whether the funds now being raised for the widows and families of the men slain at Isandula and Rorke's Drift will be applicable for the relief of distress caused by deaths in other parts of the scene of operations at the Cape. Moreover, there is very likelihood of hard fighting before the war comes to an end, and in that case we shall either have to start one or more additional funds, or to leave unrelieved some widows and orphans quite as deserving of public benevolence as those who were made so by the fighting at Isandula and Rorke's Drift.

WILSON'S CIRCUS.

WE can testify that the new programme now being played at this entertainment is, on the whole, the most attractive that Mr. Wilson has as yet got together. The trained horses are well worth seeing, and quite equal those that accompanied the Circus during its former visit to Bombay. We are sorry to learn that Mr. Wilson will soon leave India, but hope that during the few days he remains here, he will have the full houses that his entertainment really merits.

THE BOMBAY TOWN COUNCIL.

THE weekly meeting of the Bombay Town Council was held yesterday, when there were present:—Dr. Blaney (Chairman), Sir F. Souter, C. S. I., Mr. Douglas, the Hon. Dosabhoy Framjee, C. S. I., Mr. Nanabhoy Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, Mr. Rugoonath Narayen Khote, Mr. Muncherjee Nowrojee Banajee, Mr. Nowrojee Furdoonjee, Mr. Fazulbhoy Casumbhoy Gangjee, Mr. Rahimtoola Mahomed Sayani.

IMPROVEMENT IN CHURCH GATE STREET.

A letter was submitted from the Commissioner, reporting that the steps formerly projecting into Church Gate Street had been removed, at a total cost to the Municipality of Rs. 7,269, and requesting the Council to sanction payment of that amount.

The sanction asked for was given.

The Hon. Dosabhoy Framjee called attention to the fact that Church Gate Street was often inconveniently blocked by carriages standing in it. He thought if he mentioned the matter in the presence of Sir Frank Souter, that gentleman, as Commissioner of Police, would see that some arrangement was made, as for instance that the carriages of ladies or gentlemen calling in Church Gate Street should take up a position in line near the Frere Fountain, so that they could be called up when wanted.

Sir F. Souter said the matter had been brought to his notice before, but he really did not see how to get over the difficulty. If carriages were to be sent away to a stand, he should have dozens of letters the next day from ladies complaining that they had gone into shops "just for two minutes" to buy a pair of gloves, and had to wait for half an hour.

GRAIN CONTRACT.

On the recommendation of the Municipal Commissioner, the tender of Mr. Hormusjee F. Wadia was accepted, to supply grain to the Municipality for the remainder of the current year at the following rates:—Oored Rs. 54, bran Rs. 30, gram Rs. 45, mattra Rs. 35, and rice Rs. 35 per thousand pounds.

ASSESSMENT OF INSURANCE COMPANIES.

A memorandum No. 3,461, dated 23rd April 1879, from the Commissioner, was submitted, forwarding letter No. 777, dated 22nd instant, from the chief accountant, containing a tabulated statement showing the contribution payable by the different Insurance Companies to the Municipality for 1879, the total amount assessed for 1879 is 21,011 against Rs. 19,098 for 1878. The Budget estimate for this is Rs. 19,000; the increase is due to the opening of three new agencies.

The Council ordered the communication to be recorded.

NEW WATER MAINS.

The Council resolved to recommend the Corporation to sanction a grant from surplus cash balance Rs. 4,850 for the laying of a water main from the Byculla Circle at Byculla. The Deputy Executive Engineer estimates that the receipts from the connections with this will amount to Rs. 540 per annum. Further consideration of a letter, dated 16th instant, from inhabitants of the Race Course Circle praying that a water main may be laid to their locality.

The Council also resolved to recommend the Corporation to sanction payment from surplus cash balance of Rs. 3,584, cost of laying a 6 in. main from the 32 in. main in Grant Road along 10th Khetwaddy Lane to join the 4 in. main in Khetwady Main Road and also for continuing the 6 in. main in Lamington Road to join the 3 in. main in 1st Khetwaddy Lane.

THE COLLECTION DEPARTMENT.

A letter No. 10,411, dated 17th December 1878, from the Commissioner, was read, stating that he is of opinion there has been no remissness or neglect of duty on the part of the Assessing or Collecting Departments in regard to the irrecoverable bills from 1873 to 1877. It was ordered to be recorded.

HIGH COURT DECREES.

YESTERDAY at the High Court, the following cases were heard before Sir Charles Sargent:—

SONAJI VINDOW AND BAI RADHA HARRISHCHANDRA.

Mr. Dhurandar, instructed by Messrs. Nanu and Hormusjee, appeared for the plaintiff who claimed Rs. 1,500 on two promissory notes executed by the defendant in 1876. There was no appearance for the defendant, who had been adjudicated insolvent on account of the notes. The claim being proved, his Lordship gave a decree for plaintiff for Rs. 1,011, with interest and costs.

LYNCH AND TOBIN VS. MAHOMED BIN MAHOMED CASSUM.

Mr. Lang, instructed by Messrs. Lynch and Tobin, appeared for the plaintiffs; and Mr. Starling, instructed by Messrs. Macfarlane and Gilbert, for the defendant. Mr. Starling asked that the suit be transferred to the long cause list. The summons was served on defendant on Friday last as he was about to start on a pilgrimage, and the defence that he had paid Rs. 10,000 to the plaintiffs' managing clerk, for which no credit had been given. Mr. Lang said the managing clerk would deny receiving any money from defendant. After some discussion, the case was transferred to the long cause list.

GANNESHDAS JAIRAMDAS VS. PREMJEE LUDHA AND OTHERS.

Mr. Farran, instructed by Mr. Khunderao, appeared for the plaintiff. Mr. Gill, instructed by Messrs. Chalk and Walker, for the defendants, asked that the case be transferred to the long cause list, affirming that it would take two days in hearing. Mr. Farran said it was a suit on a bill of exchange; and he did not see what defence there could be. His Lordship ordered the case to be put in the long cause list.

JAITHA KHIMJEE VS. HAJEE ESSA.

Mr. Budroodin, instructed by Messrs. Tyabjee and Syani, appeared for the plaintiff who claimed Rs. 1,079, the balance of an account. There was no appearance for defendant, against whom a decree was given for the abovementioned amount with interest and costs.

NATHOOBHOY SOORCHUND VS. POONSEY PASVIR.

Mr. B. M. Waglo, instructed by Messrs. Shapurjee and Thakurdas, appeared for the plaintiff who claimed Rs. 5,028, due on an account. A decree was given for the plaintiff for the abovementioned amount, with interest and costs.

ABDOOLALLY BUDROODIN AND ANOTHER VS. FAZALALLY IBRAHIMJEE AND ANOTHER.

Mr. Taylor, instructed by Mr. Bhaishanker for the plaintiff, asked for an adjournment on the ground of the absence of material witnesses. His Lordship ordered the case to be put into the list after the part heard cases.

BAI JAYER VS. RAMCHANDRA BHAWANISHANKER.

Mr. Farran, instructed by Messrs. Ardasir and Hormusjee, said the plaintiff had lent to defendant Rs. 6,000 on the mortgage of his premises. Nothing had been paid on account of principal or interest. There was no appearance for the defendant. The court gave a decree for the plaintiff for Rs. 6,000 with interest and costs. If the amount was not paid within six months, the mortgaged property should be sold, with liberty to the plaintiff to bid at the sale and set off.

HENRY C DUMBELL VS. HASSEBHOY ESSA.

Mr. Lang, instructed by Messrs. Rimington, Hore, and Conroy, appeared for the plaintiff. There was no appearance for the defendant. The suit was brought on a judgment of the Small Causes Court and also to recover the amount of a redraft in respect of bales of hides consigned by the defendant for sale in England. The court gave a decree for plaintiff for Rs. 1,739, with interest and costs.

AHMEDBHOY HUBIBBHOY VS. ROBERT KNIGHT AND OTHERS.

This case was put down in the list; but appeared to have been postponed by Judge's order made in chambers.

TRIBHOWANDAS VEERJEE VS. NURSEY KESSOWJEE AND CO.

This case was struck out for want of appearance of either party.

KESHUB CHUNDER SEN'S LAST LECTURE.

(Indian Church Gazette.)

It will be universally admitted that the lecture delivered in the Town Hall, Calcutta, by Babu Keshub Chunder Sen was the most remarkable of all his utterances. For simplicity, straightforwardness, and pathos, it could scarcely be surpassed. If the lecturer were still the real leader of the Brahmos, it would naturally be taken to signify a new point of departure on the part of the general body. But as it presents the views of a man alone. His stands accused of having sacrificed a daughter to worldly ambition, and of having discussed before the public his own position in a manner that argued much conceit, not to say a certain tinge of madness. We are not saying that we agree with the estimate which so many seem to have formed of him. Any one who desires to form an opinion on Keshub Chunder Sen's marriage, ought in fairness to read the March number of the Theistic Review, where he will see another aspect of the matter well supported; and his lecture discussing his own claims to be a prophet can only be properly understood by realising the peculiar position into which some of his followers have been inclined to raise him, will he, nill he. But that his influence has been seriously impaired, either by acts of his own or through the increasing disposition on the part of many of the Brahmos to sink the spiritual and religious and to become mere social reformers, is only too certain. Hence the real value of a lecture like that lately delivered must be tested by the power of the lecture itself, and the promise, whatever it be, that the character of the Babu gives, of its being a stand-point that he will maintain, or from which he will even advance, and not a mere sail put out to catch the breeze of popular applause.

The lecture itself is, we think, really powerful from its simplicity and straightforward character. Bold assertions have always a certain power. And Keshub Chunder Sen boldly asserts that India is now asking, "Who is Christ?" Few would have ventured to assert this. The fact is certainly not patent. But this much is certain, that if Keshub Chunder Sen persists in this assertion, and makes it a point of departure for the future, he will make it true. No amount of assertion on such a point coming from a Christian could do the work of suggesting the duty of asking the question, to the extent that an assumption like that made in this lecture will. It is, then, a real gain from a Christian point of view to have the assumption so boldly made.

THE "OPIUM-EATER" ON SHAKESPEARE.

THE following, which appeared in the Quarterly Review so far back as June 1842, will be read with freshness and delight by all lovers of Shakespeare:—

THE "English Opium-Eater's" life of Shakespeare in the Encyclopædia Britannica is a very curious performance; he has displayed much ingenuity and sharpness of logic in this singular tract, and we are sure the specimen of it we here give cannot fail to interest our readers:—

After this review of Shakespeare's life it becomes our duty to take a summary survey of his intellectual powers, and of his station in literature, a station which is now irrevocably settled, not so much (which happens in other cases) by a vast preponderance of favourable suffrages as by acclamation; not so much by the voices of those who admire him up to the verge of idolatry, as by the acts of those who everywhere seek for his works among the primal necessities of life, demand them and crave them as they do their daily bread; not so much by eulogy openly proclaiming itself, as by the silent homage recorded in the endless multiplication of what he has bequeathed us; not so much by his own compatriots, who, with regard to almost every other author compose the total amount of his festive audience, as by the unanimous "All hail!" of intellectual Christendom: finally, not by the hasty partisanship of his own generation, nor by the biased judgment of an age trained in the same modes of feeling and of thinking with himself,—but by the solemn award of generation succeeding to generation, of one age correcting the obliquities or peculiarities of another; the verdict of two hundred and thirty years, which have now elapsed since the very latest of his creations, or of two hundred and forty-seven years if we date from the earliest; a verdict which has been certified by the general acclamation of the human race. He has pushed his own peculiar doctrine, not as a dogma, but with a critical severity in every spirit, from the most genial and intelligent down to the most malignant and scarrilously hostile which feeble heads and great ignorance could suggest when co-operating with impure hearts and narrow sensibilities; a verdict, in short, sustained and countersigned by a longer series of writers, many of them eminent for wit or learning, than were ever before congregated upon any inquest relating to any author, be he who he might, ancient or modern, Pagan or Christian.

It was a most witty saying with respect to a piratical and knavish publisher, who made a base trade of insulting the memories of deceased authors by forged writings, that he was "among the new terrors of death." But in the gravest sense it may be affirmed of Shakespeare, that he is among the modern luxuries of life—that life, in fact, is a new thing, and one more to be coveted, since Shakespeare has extended the domain of human consciousness, and pushed its dark frontiers into regions not so much as dimly described or even suspected before his time, far less illuminated (as now they are) by beauty and tropical luxuriance of life. For instance—a single instance, indeed one which in itself is a world of new revelation—the possible beauty of the female character had not been seen as in a dream before Shakespeare called into perfect life the radiant shapes of Desdemona, of Imogene, of Hermione, of Perdita, of Ophelia, of Miranda, and many others. The Una of Spenser, earlier by ten or fifteen years than most of these, was an idealised portrait of female innocence and virgin purity, but too shadowy and unreal for a dramatic reality. And the direction of the public mind was not to imagine for an instant that any prototype in this field of Shakespearian power can be looked for there.

The Antigone and the Electra of the tragic poets are the two leading characters that classical antiquity offers to our respect, but assuredly not to our impassioned love, as disciplined and exalted in the school of Shakespeare. They challenge our admiration, severe, and even stern; as impersonations of filial duty, clearing to the steps of a desolate and afflicted old sire, or of sisterly affection, maintaining the rights of a brother under circumstances of peril, of desertion, and consequently of perfect self-reliance. Iphigenia, again, though not drawn originally before us in the character of a

INTRODUCTION REQUIRED.

ILL HEALTH.—Numerous diseases arise or cannot be got rid of by reason of impurity of blood. OLD DOCTOR JACOB TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA has now for nearly half a century been prescribed in all such cases. Its cleansing, tonic, and restorative qualities render it peculiarly efficacious in cases of Biliousness, Disordered Stomach or Liver, Headache, Skin, Blotches, Piles, and ailments arising from a tainted state of the blood or debilitated constitution. To those living in crowded cities or in unhealthy districts its effects are magical. Many remedies for particular diseases fail in consequence of the enfeebled and impure state of the system. Cleanse, strengthen, and purify the system and blood, and maladies which have long proved incurable will vanish or yield to other remedies.

In conjunction with this invaluable Preparation may, with great advantage, be taken the OLD DOCTOR'S SARSAPARILLA PILLS, aperient and alterative, but not purgative. Wholesale Agents Messrs. Bathgate and Co., for Bengal and Calcutta; Messrs Barry and Co., Vepery, Madras; Messrs. Treacher and Co., Bombay, Byculla, and Poona; or at the Sarsaparilla Depot, 131, Fleet Street, London.

NOTICE.—Fraudulent imitations of old Dr. Jacob Townsend's Sarsaparilla are being sold. The genuine is sold only in Red and Blue Wrappers, the Old Dr's head is the centre, and the British Government stamp affixed.

GRIFFITHS' PATENT WHITE OR
OXY-SULPHIDE OF ZINC PAINT.
MANUFACTURED BY
GRIFFITHS, FLETCHER, & BERDOE,
SEEL STREET, LIVERPOOL,

Covers 100 per cent. more than Oxide Zinc.
Covers 25 per cent. more than White Lead.
It retains its Whiteness under all conditions.
A Red Heat will not destroy it.
Will never Blister.
Is Non-poisonous—Has no Smell.
Has no Chemical Action upon Metals.

The Patent Zinc White, or substitute for Lead, invented and patented by Mr. Thomas Griffiths, of Oxton, Liverpool, received the highest possible praise at the Meetings of "The Society of Arts and Manufactures," London, and "The Social Science Congress."

THE Manufacture of "GRIFFITHS' PATENT WHITE," formed the subject of a lecture at the Society of Arts in the Spring of 1877, and has been reported upon by the leading scientific Chemists, Paint Merchants, Decorators, &c., &c.; was brought before the International Congress of Hygiene, at Paris, in August 1878, by Professor Lutschaunig and Dr. Phipson and in the same month before the British Association, in Dublin; in October, a paper was read upon it at the Social Science Congress in Cheltenham, by Dr. Bartlett; and it was the subject of a paper read during the session of 1878 of the Paris Academy of Science. At the Paris International Exhibition, 1878, the highest distinction which was conferred upon paints, viz.: The only Silver Medal, was awarded to it, and at the Sanitary Institute of Great Britain it obtained the Prize Medal. It has been most favourably reported on in the "Lancet," "Engineering," "Engineer," "Builder," "Architect," "Chemical News," "Sanitary Record," "Society of Arts Journal," "Scientific American," "Journal of Chemical Society," "Moniteur," "Exposition de Paris," "Lloyd's Official List," "New York Tribune," "New York Times," "Comptes-Rendus," of the French Academy of Science, &c., &c. Copies of any of the above reports can be had on application; also samples for trial.

So great has been the demand for it since its introduction, that the proprietors, who were producing about 25 TONS PER WEEK in Liverpool, have been compelled to purchase Extensive Works in London, where they can manufacture about 50 TONS EXTRA PER WEEK. They have also had to secure sufficient room to increase the production to 200 tons weekly, making them the largest producers of White Pigment in Europe.

WHITE LEAD possesses only one good property, viz., "covering power." it is poisonous, soon loses its opacity, and turns yellow with Sewer and other Gases, and prejudicially affects Iron and other metals.

OXIDE ZINC has scarcely half the covering power of lead, but it is whiter and retains its colour.

GRIFFITHS' PATENT ZINC WHITE has all the good properties of both the above without any of their drawbacks, viz., it has far more body than Lead, has double that of Oxide Zinc, has the same whiteness, will never change colour even in sulphuretted hydrogen (which destroys lead) and does not lose its opacity by age. It is calcined at a red heat in its manufacture, hence is almost indestructible, and, of course, will stand any variation of climate. Its durability is such that it is admirably adapted for protecting Iron, Wooden or Cement Structures in any exposed situations, from the effects of the weather.

PROFESSOR PHIPSON says: "It is one of the most ingenious and useful discoveries of modern times."

GRIFFITHS' PATENT NEW ZINC WHITE is at present used by the English and other Governments as well as large private firms.

Full reports from the highest scientific authorities in the kingdom, gratis, on applying to any Agents of the "Silicate Paint Company," Liverpool. The following are a few who have reported on this new pigment:—

BILLIARD TABLES.

THE undoubted and established superiority of C. L. & Co.'s Billiard Tables is amply proved by the constant and increasing demand for them, showing that they are really the only tables now appreciated in India. This success is due to the steadfast efforts C. L. & Co. have always exerted to supply their constituents with really trustworthy and reliable articles at as moderate a price as is compatible with good workmanship and material. The generous and liberal support extended to C. L. & Co. for upwards of half a century, is sufficient proof that their endeavours to render satisfaction have been appreciated by a critical and discerning public.

While the superiority of C. L. & Co.'s Billiard Tables has been universally admitted in India, yet the difficulties and risks of transport have hitherto prevented their friends in Bombay from largely availing themselves of the undoubted advantages offered by C. L. & Co.

Now, however, C. L. & Co. beg to intimate to their patrons in the Western Presidency, that they have made arrangements which will enable them to offer their Billiard Tables at the same prices in Bombay as in Calcutta. A Branch Agency, under the management of Messrs. SUNDY & Co., has been established at No. 22, Rampart Row, where Billiard Tables of C. Lazarus & Co.'s manufacture are arranged for sale; and while thanking their constituents for the patronage hitherto extended to their Firm, C. L. & Co. venture to express a hope that, with the increased facilities now offered, their manufactures will be as well known in Bombay as they are already in other parts of India.
